1.   My mom, in her 50's
          Would like to see what I've been doing with my life and my portfolio. She doesn't understand computers or the internet at all. Needs to be able to clearly understand how to navigate through the site in order to see the work. The type needs to be large enough so that she can click on links without any sort of problem. Also, if there are too many distractions on the screen she will freak out and forget about looking at my website in the first place.

2.   Jim, Employment Opportunity
          Just sent my resume to "Design Land" and Jim is looking at my website which is on my resume. The navigation bar needs to be able to direct him through my work without any confusion. He also needs to be able to see a link that allows him to contact me directly.
